

End Time Events II

By Greg Rangel

Matthew 24:2-3 says; “Verily I say unto you, there shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, tell us, when shall these things be? And what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?” In other words, the disciples are asking when is what He is talking about going to take place? When is the temple going to be destroyed? Jesus answers their question, but not with a specific date, but with some details of the future events.

The events that Jesus spoke about came to pass in 70 A.D. when the Roman’s destroyed the temple. The first question of the disciples was answered when that took place. But the disciples did ask two more questions. “What shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world.”

These questions perhaps has been in the mind of everyone at one time or another. When will it be the end of the world? In our days we have seen a rise of what we call “End Time Prophets” that try to answer this question with their own ideologies and false teachings. And unfortunately there are many more people that are so quick to believe what these false teachers have to say than what Jesus has to say about the end of the world.

One thing I see that is becoming so common is how even many Christians are reacting when they come across videos on youtube that were created by secular skull loving, heavy metal, tattooed freaks that speak about the end of the world. Unfortunately Christians begin to react like unbelievers who have no hope in God. And there are other videos that are now going around that the world might end in 2012. So we have many out there that are freaking out because of this. Read some of the predictions that have been made by these previous En Time False Prophets: Apparently in the year 2003 the world was going to end because a comet was going to crash into the earth. This was an apparent warning that was given to the prophet by a group of aliens which are called Zetas. Unfortunately many believed in this prior to 2003.

The British group called The Lord's Witnesses believed that the Bible contains codes which can be used to predict, amongst other events, the end of the World. Based on their code they have charted the history of Mankind from the birth of Adam in the year 4027BC to its destruction on March 21, 2008. Well they came to find out that they were so wrong.

The Jehovah's Witnesses predicted doomsday as 1984. They also got it wrong in 1874, 1878, 1881, 1910, 1914, 1918, 1925 and 1975 when they had predicted that in those dates the world was going to end.

Many believed that something was going to happen on Feb. 21, 2009 immediately after Obama took office. But nothing occurred.

And now the most common one that people are believing today is called the 2012 Mayan Calendar. The Mayan calendar is divided into months of 20 days, years of 360 days, katun of 7200 days and a baktun of 144,000 days. According to this ancient civilization the world will last for exactly 13 baktun cycles. Their calendar started on 3114-AUG-13 BCE with the birth of Venus and they expected the world to end during the Winter Solstice of 2012. And the list can continue.

Eli Eshoh predicted that, based on his investigation into the Mystical Number 666, the world would end in 1998. Those who took Eshoh's advice sold all their belongings prior to 1998. He says the Rapture took place on June 6, 1998. The reason it wasn't noticed was that only 603,729 people were taken up, so out of a world population of 6,660,603,729 persons, it wasn't noticed.

Will people ever stop believing in what these end time prophets predict? Unfortunately not. People will rather believe in a lie than what the Bible says. We can be sure that Jesus will come back as He foretold, and that the end of the world will take place as it is mentioned in the Bible. But no one knows the day or the hour as Jesus said. But there are some signs that we must be looking for.
